

[Instructions: Choose Edit...Select All, or click and drag to select all text below, then copy this text and paste it into your word processor. Fill in the information noted in blue. Pay special attention to directions noted in red.]

RADY CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL – SAN DIEGO AND UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SAN DIEGO
EXEMPT INFORMATION SHEET

Note; In this information sheet the word “you” refers to the person being considered for enrollment in the study described. This may be you as the reader of this document, a person for whom you are serving as the Legally Authorized Representative (LAR) or surrogate, or your child.

You are being invited to participate in a research study titled Tool Use in Interactive Theorem Provers. This study is being done by Kyle Thompson and Sorin Lerner from UC San Diego and Rady Children's Hospital-San Diego. You were selected to participate in this study because you are taking CSE-230, Principles of Programming Languages.

The purpose of this research study is to collect fine-grained theorem proving data that aids the development of new theorem proving tools. Your participation in this research should last approximately 3 months. If you agree to take part in this study, you will be asked to complete your normal course-related tasks with no differences in behavior.

Your participation in this study is completely voluntary and you can withdraw at any time. Choosing not to participate or withdrawing will result in no penalty or loss of benefits to which you are entitled. You are free to skip any question that you choose.

Research sometimes requires that information regarding its purpose not be shared with the research participants because its knowledge could impact the results of the research. Note that none of the aspects of the research being withheld are reasonably expected to affect your willingness to take part. While the tasks you will be asked to perform for this research have been explained, the full intent of the research will not be provided until the completion of the study. At that time you will have the opportunity to ask questions, including about the purpose of the study and the procedures used, and withdraw your data if you so choose.

If you have questions about this project or if you have a research-related problem, you may contact the researcher(s), Kyle Thompson (989) 941-1887, Sorin Lerner (206) 909-5835. If you have any questions concerning your rights as a research subject, you may contact the UC San Diego Office of IRB Administration at irb@ucsd.edu or 858-246-4777.

By participating in this research you are indicating that you are at least 18 years old, have read this information sheet, and agree to participate in this research study. Please keep this information sheet for your records.